The Company's websites and applications are not targeted to children. The Company does not knowingly accept personal information from children under the age of 13.

Parents should be aware that information that is voluntarily given by children or others in chat sessions, email exchanges, bulletin boards or the like may be used by other parties to generate unsolicited email or other contacts. The Company encourages all parents to instruct their children in the safe and responsible use of the Internet.

HOW DO WE PROTECT YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

The Company takes measures to prevent unauthorized intrusion to its websites and applications and the alteration, acquisition or misuse of personal information by unauthorized persons. However, the Company cautions visitors to its websites and users of its applications that no network, including the Internet, is entirely secure.

INFORMATION COLLECTED AUTOMATICALLY - CLICKSTREAM

When you access and interact with one of our websites, we may collect certain information often referred to as "clickstream data." Such data may include the type of Internet browser and operating system you are using, the pages and information you accessed on our site, the total time spent on our site, and the domain name of the website from which you linked to our site. Also, where you have previously identified yourself in the registration process as affiliated with a particular business or organization, we may record the fact that a representative of your business or organization visited the site, along with other clickstream data concerning that visit. Clickstream data will not be used to identify you personally and will not be associated or correlated with any site visitor in a personally-identifiable manner.

INFORMATION PLACED AUTOMATICALLY ON YOUR COMPUTER – COOKIES

When you view one of our websites, we may store certain information on your computer. This information may be in the form of a small text file called a "cookie" and can help us improve your experience with our websites in many ways. For example, cookies allow us to tailor a website to better match your interests and preferences. Notably, our websites use cookies to help understand which parts of our websites are most popular, where our visitors are going and how much time they spend there. Cookies are read only by the server that placed them, and are unable to execute any code or virus.

Also, where specific programs associated with our websites require a user ID and password, you have the option of requesting that we save your user ID and password so that you will not have to re-enter that information the next time you access the website. This function is accomplished by the placement of a cookie.

With most Internet browsers, you can erase cookies from your computer hard drive, block all cookies or receive a warning before a cookie is stored. Please refer to your browser instructions or help screen to learn more about these functions. Please be aware, however, that some features and programs of our websites may be unavailable to you if cookies are erased or blocked.

Some uses of cookies in connection with our websites may be under the control of unaffiliated entities that the Company retains for the management of certain programs and fulfillment of specific visitor/customer requests. The Company requires these entities to confine their use of cookies to the uses permitted by this Policy, but the Company cannot be responsible for third party uses of cookies.

LOCATION INFORMATION

This site and our applications use location data provided by your web browser or mobile device if allowed. If your GPS location cannot be determined then your IP address is used to locate you. This information is not stored by the Company in any way. Location data is collected for the purpose of assigning your closest physical restaurant location to customize the web site or application experience. Location data is not required to use or access this website or the applications.

OFFLINE V. ONLINE PRACTICES

This Policy applies solely to the Company's information-gathering and dissemination practices in connection with its websites and applications in the United States, and does not apply to any of our practices conducted offline or outside of the United States.

CHANGES TO THIS POLICY

This Policy is the sole authorized statement of the Company's practices with respect to the collection of personal information through the Company's websites and applications and the subsequent use and disclosure of such information. Certain third party websites or applications may be linked to the Company website or applications. These third party websites and applications include their own privacy policies. Please refer to these policies when using one of the linked websites.

The Company may revise this Policy from time to time. You should bookmark and periodically review this page to ensure that you are familiar with the most current version of this Policy. You can determine when this Policy was last revised by checking the "Last Revised" legend at the top of the Policy.
